POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

In peaceful, untroubled times, Mr. Everyday American may feel that he can play a bit of politics, or leave it alone, as his fancy suits him—and that the country won't go to the dogs entirely if he is too preoccupied to do more than get out and vote on election day!

Right now, however, the man who won't invest a little of his time and energy in deliberating on the problems of his government is on a par with the fellow who never thinks about buying insurance until his house burns down.

The 1941 session of the State Legislature is drawing to a close after a hectic meeting, marked by a death-grips battle between thoughtful legislators, who recognize that the country is faced with a national emergency, and thoughtless legislators, who are still crayying the torch for self-seeking minorities.

In Washington, D. C., Congress and the leaders in our national government are grappling with the most momentous issues in America's history. President Roosevelt has asked enactment of a bill which will give him the authority to draft "property of any kind or character" for defense of the nation. Secretary of the Interior Ickes has been made czar of the oil industry. There is talk of government seizure of strike-bound plants to put an end to the deadly paralysis of labor warfare. Workers in the State Departments toil far into the night. And there are rumblings that a declaration of war may not be far distant!

That is the stuff that politics is made of these days. It isn't a question any more of bickering between Democrats and Republicans, or rivalry between the "ins" and the "outs." This is the grim business of determining whether American democracy is still equal to any emergency.

The "America First Committee," in a recent campaign broadside, bluntly asks: "If we get into this war, won't we become a Fascist America?" Other thoughtful Americans are asking: "If we do not get into this war, won't we become a vassal of Hitler?" They are both questions to ponder.

For the duration of the unlimited national emergency now upon us, Mr. Everyday American, if he values the welfare of his country, should play his politics close to his vest—and take it just as seriously as he takes his life and his liberty. For politics, after all, is simply the business of government. And the busines of government, right now, is the most serious business in the land!

Miss Barbara Davis who teaches languages in the Campbell Union High school and has occupied one of Mrs. Mary Palmer's apartments with Miss Florence Smith, is leaving Saturday for her home in Oakland and the following Saturday sails for the Hawaiian islands for a summer vacation.

Bert Robinson Is Expected to Lead Football Lineup

Last season as an end on the San Jose State freshman football eleven, likeable Bert Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Robinson, was the star of the team turning in a good all around game every time he went out on the gridiron and leading the Spartababes in scoring. Unusual but true—Robinson as an end led the team in scoring.

Seeing the possibilities in his play, Spartan Coach Ben Wingleman has shifted the 180 pound blond kid into the backfield. In the spring training sessions Robinson was the number one right halfback, filling the shoes of Bud Nygren, leading scorer on the Pacific coast last season and presently occupied with duties in the army.

Robinson has shown up well in the preliminary training and has become a cool, poised back. Running from the intricate Warner reverses Bert has shown steady improvement.

State fans are expecting to see and hear a lot of the Blond Bombshell in the next three years. When the "Golden Raiders" trot onto the field to open their 1941 season against Texas A. & I., Robinson is expected to be the starting right half.

Pundita Circle Hold Picnic Meeting June 11

Pundita Circle had its picnic and final meeting of the year on Wednseday, June 11 in the garden of the Pardee home on Sunnyoaks avenue. Mrs. J. J. Pardee was assisted by Mesdames B. O. Curry, George Smith, Booker, LaMontagne.

The tables were set in the grape arbor and were loaded with good things to eat.

The club voted to give $10 to the County Boy Scout fund. Mrs. M. E. Purmort announced the marriage of Miss Lee Gillis to Norman E. Hansen in Spokane, Wash. Miss Gillis will be remembered as a niece of Mrs. Purmort who made her home with the Purmorts for several years.

Mrs. D. K. Robison presented the programs for the year 1941-42 which were done very nicely and were enjoyed by all.

The Sigma Sigmas enjoyed a picnic at Alum Rock park, for their last meeting until fall, some thirty members attending.

Mr. and Mrs. George Max Ickes of 58 Rincon avenue are parents of a daughter Linda Jean, born June 5 at O'Connor sanitarium.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Turner (Miriam Blaine) a daughter Wednesday evening, June 11 at San Jose hospital. The youngster weighed eight pound, three ounces.

"OUR FLAG"

"O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light . . . . "

The Flag of the United States of America has developed step by step as the nation has developed. It is a living symbol. Each feature of the Flag represents a grand deed and a high ideal, represents men and women trying to create a better way of life. It symbolizes the daring devotion of the past, the gigantic effort of the present, triumphant faith in the future. It is an emblem of frontier hardships and struggles, of peaceful fields and wonder-working factories, of churches, schools and love-filled homes. In its colors are reflected the brightest hopes and noblest visions that the good men of every age have cherished. The honoring of this Flag is a solemn pledge that these hopes and visions shall be realized.—R. H. Markham.

Walter Smily Tells Of War Experience At Club Meeting

Campbell Kiwanians were given a knowledge of war from personal experience Tuesday when Walter Smily, local radio man, described World War I as it was conducted in the eastern Mediterranean countries.

As a member of the Anzacs he saw plenty of campaigning much of it in hot arid sections. First hand reports are usually vastly more interesting than those of writers and correspondents.

Next Tuesday the program will be presented by Robert Richey, general agent of the Union Pacific in San Jose, whose topic will be "Utah and Arizona National Parks" and Joe Agostinho will be invested with authority for the day.

DAD HAS HIS DAY

He has his day, too, but you can depend on it that you won't hear a word about it from him.

What with all these "special days" blanketing the calendar from the last shrill toot of a New Year's morning celebrant to the first rousing horn blast on New Year's Eve twelve months later, it is only right and proper that there should be one day set aside for him, too.

Who are we talking about? You konw him as well as we do. He's the man who pays the family's bills the first of every month, who trims the lawn while everyone else is out frolicking at the beach, who gets the burnt toast at breakfast that daughter won't touch, that rides in his own car—when no one else is using it—who repairs the leaky faucets and serves as all-around handy man because son is often too busy.

Naturally, he's not the man to sulk if you forget that Sunday, June 15, is Fathers' Day. But we have a hunch he's be mighty pleased if you gave him some token of remembrance.

"GASOLINELESS SUNDAYS"

There is sober talk in the national capital, where the problem of conserving oil and gasoline for the Army and Navy is much in the spotlight, of "gasolineless Sundays," or other drastic measures to restrict the use of motor fuel for pleasure. Sunday outings in the family car may be banned, so that America's tanks and planes, armored cars and battle cruisers, may have heavy stores of reserves to meet any emergency.

Reassuring, however, in face of the threat of "gasolineless Sundays," is the announcement from Paul M. Downing, vice president of the Pacific Gas and Electric company, that power shortages threatening to hamper defense production in the East will not be felt here. There will be no "black-outs" in California to save electricity.

Californias' powerhouse is capable of meeting all demands which may be made on it, even in the dryest years, Mr. Downing reports. And while weekend auto excursions may be curtailed, there'll be no shortage of power, for business, industry, or normal household needs. If the lights are turned low, it will likely be for romantic reasons, not by government request.

"SACRIFICE"

"I've talked with hundreds of guys—some who came in the draft and some who enlisted—and I've yet to hear any grumbling," writes one draftee in the U. S. Army, who, even in his regulation khaki, could be picked out on the parade ground by any feminine movie fan—and gladly.

"The great majority of these guys," says actor-draftee Jimmy Stewart, "want to get all they can out of their hitch in the Army. And the Army has plenty to offer."

That statement is a good thing to think about when you hear grousing and grumbling about "sacrifice" in the name of American defense. You don't even need to remember that Jimmy Stewart exchanged a higher income as a movie idol than most of us ever aspire to, for an Army check of $21 a month. It's enough just to know that red-blooded American kids with education and intelligence, jobs, careers and easier lives than the Army routine still feel this country's grand enough to sacrifice a year of their lives, and maybe more, for its protection. It makes the current petty squabbling, the demands and the belligerence over possible sacrifice repugmant things, and it renews one's faith in the future of this land.

A. SWEET TOOTH HELPS

Want to do your bit to help cement our friendly relations with Latin America? You'll soon have a chance.

As soon as present quota negotiations are complete, this country will be importing far greater quantities of cocoa from South America than ever before. This is one cash crop that's important to the economies of several Latin American countries and important to the sweet tooth of millions of Americans. Yet last year only 30 per cent of our cocoa imports came from Latin America. The bulk of it we obtained from British Africa. Under the new program we will purchase at least 56 per cent of our cocoa supplies from our southern neighbors and slash our imports from Africa by one-third.

The cocoa bean, which sires the candy, milk shake and breakfast drink which bear the name of chocolate, has hence become a factor in hemisphere solidarity—a sizeable one considering that America's annual candy bill runs round $400 million, and a pleasant one considering that all we have to do is eat and drink our way into the affections of our neighbors.

LET'S BE A LITTLE GAY

In the glorious summer days ahead, there are hundreds upon hundreds of celebrations scheduled for every nook and corner of California. The calendar is crammed with every conceivable kind of gayety, proving, maybe, the belief of some Easterners who insist that people hereabouts are given much more to laughter and fun than to long, dark thoughts. But if Californians can lead the nation in as many important "firsts" as everybody knows we do, and still have the time, inclination and zest for play in the sun—heaven forbid we should ever change.

The summertime schedule of events includes everything from bathing beauty parades and fishing contests to frog jumping and grape festivals. It runs the gamut from beach openings to "stampedes," from "gold digger" celebrations to paddleboard meets.

It includes Spanish fiestas, horse shows, rough water swims, frontier days, art festival, regattas, polo meets, livestock shows, harvest festivals, flower shows, Paul Bunyan celebrations and county fairs in profusion, climaxed with the eye-popping, 10-day State Fair at the capital. For the benefit of the fiesta-minded public, Jerry Carpenter of the State Chamber's travel department has prepared a full list of events, and it is a marvel of polyglot preferences in recreation.

There is a community blow-out to suit the fancy of every community, and fun to be had to fit every taste and purse. It would be a foolish waste of good fellowship, a loss of laughter never to be regained, if we didn't visit our neighbors' party and invite them to visit ours, if we refused, with frozen faces and somber hearts, to be a little gay.

* * * * *

The enterprising young Californian who at 15 was already a produce buyer for a San Francisco commission hous, at 19 became half owner of the firm, and at 34 entered his real life work with the opening of a small one-room bank in San Francisco, has traveled far since then.

But A. P. Giannini, today the nation's foremost independent banker, has by no means come to the end of his travels. Having just embarked on a statewide tour to greet personally each of his 10,000 associates and staff members in more than 300 California communities, he has started on a journey that will take several months to complete. But if determination can do the job, it's as good as done. Little more than a year ago, on his 70th birthday, employees pledged him a certain sum of new accounts for his next birthday gift. They have more than made good their word. Out of gratitude for their redoubled efforts and as a token of his appreciation, he decided on the tour to thank in person each and every employee in every part of the state.

Certainly more of that friendly, cooperative spirit between management and employees needs to be shown today by all organizations and groups. This is a time for teamwork.

OUR STATE GOVERNMENT
by GEORGE R. REILLY
STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

(In a new series of articles on "Our State Government," Commissioner George R. Reilly, our member of the State Board of Equalization, plans a streamlined analysis of the most important departments of state government, and their functions. The series when complete will give a comprehensive and informative picture to our readers as to how state government in California works.)

The present State Board of Agriculture is the outgrowth of heterogeneous boards, bureaus and commissions formerly dealing with agricultural affairs. Under the present setup agricultural interests of the state are receiving extraordinary service from their state government. The agricultural department is headed by a state board of agriculture and a director of agriculture both named by the Governor to administer the many activities of the department, which is composed of four divisions and seventeen bureaus.

Functions include supervision of the quarantine, control and elimination of pests, surveys to determine plant disease, and means of eradicating it; control and elimination of rodents and weeds; inspection of nurseries, development of crops and the offering of information in regard to soil treatment. The department enforces a program of cattle disease control; maintains dairy standards; inspects meats and hides; works out marketing and price problems together with those of distribution and co-operative associations; licenses and bonds are provided for various dealers in food products, and in co-operation with the United States Department of Agriculture market news and agriculture statistics are given.

The department has a bureau for fruit and vegetable standardization with quarantine stations and inspection points throughout the state; it enforces laws dealing with weights and measures, and maintains laboratories in which motor fuel is inspected. The director of the Department of Agriculture is W. B. Parker.

Perhaps one of California's most important departments, so far as the public is concerned, is the State Railroad Commission which is responsible for the control and supervision of public utilities and public utility rates. This agency derived its name at the time it was created for the purpose of regulating railroads in the state. Other public utilities came under its supervision as they were inaugurated throughout the state. The functions of this department have brought marked benefit to all citizens of California using the various public utilities of the state. The commission consists of five members appointed by the Governor from the state at large. Their terms are staggered, and are for periods of six years.

Daryl Farnham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet L. Farnham, is home from Oregon State college where he is majoring in Forestry. He is going back to southern Oregon on June 25 to work in a ranger station for the summer to gain more experience.

Trash Sifter

Trash sifters in Sydney, Australia, are making it a daily routine to visit the refuse bins at the street corners to retrieve modest treasure. A group of 50 or 60 men empty the bins before the city workmen get to them. They are earning the nickname "binners."

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Robson of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Stray and son Walter of Ducor, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stray, Miss Helen Stray and Philip Robson joined with Mr. and Mrs. George S. Robson Sunday in observing the latter's wedding anniversary. The George Strays returned to their home Tuesday, but Philip Robson is home for the summer vacation.

Ice Follies Goes To Sea In Novelty Presentation

Ice Follies goes to sea with the novelty presentation Join the Navy in the new 1941 edition of the "world's greatest musical revue on ice," now playing nightly at Winterland in San Francisco.

Starred in this episode are America's outstanding pair skaters, Evelyn Chandler and Bruce Mapes. The latter plays the role of a naval recruiting officer with Miss Chandler as his sea-going sweetheart. Together they present nautical novelties.

McKellen Brothers play the part of two gobs— Brother "Tuffy" as the mildly-abused sailor, and Gil as the bullying shore policeman. The sea-faring setting gives the two well-known Ice Follies performers an opportunity to present a unique routine of spectacular and thrilling acrobatics on skates. New tricks offer feats that have never before been accomplished on a stage, let alone on the slippery surface of an ice rink on one-eighth inch steel blades.

Rounding out and climaxing this nautical episode is the famous Ice Follies "Swing Waltz," with twelve graceful dancing couples gliding swiftly around the ice.

Ruby and Bobby Maxson, the youthful brother and sister team in the "Waltz" so captivated Hollywood premiere audiences that Ice Follies' management gave them a special feature spot in the number, permitting them to take a solo encore which has been received by storms of applause. This is the first time in the four-year history of the Ice Follies that any one couple has been singled out of the Swing Waltz.

Mr and Mrs. L. F. Sherlock of Campbell are being congratulated on the arrival of their first grandchild. The baby, a son, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cassel, (Josephine Sherlock) at O'Connor sanitarium. Mrs. Cassel is making her home with her parents on San Jose-Los Gatos road while Mr. Cassel is serving in the Pihllipine Islands with the United States Navy.

Parking Situation To Be Improved

The chamber of commerce and the business men in the downtown district of Campbell have been much concerned over the double parking situation and are endeavoring to secure the cooperation of employees and delivery truck drivers to keep the streets clear as a safety measure.

The following petition was circulated yesterday and met with ready response.

"We, the undersigned, agree to cooperate with the Campbell Chamber of Commerce on the parking problem by not permitting ourselves or our employees to park in the business district on Campbell avenue, for more than one hour at one time, also that we will insist on merchandise being received at the rear of buildings, or from other than double parked trucks. I pledge my cooperation in this matter for the mutual benefit of myself and the town ofCampbell."

"I'D HATE TO THINK"

"I'd hate to think when life is through
That I had lived my round of years
A useless kind, that leaves behind
No record in this vale of tears;
That I had wasted all my days,
By treading only selfish ways,
And that this world would be the same
If it had never known my name."

"I'd like to think when life is done,
That I had filled a needed post,
That here and there I'd paid my fare
With more than idle talk and boast;
That I had taken gifts divine,
The breath of life and manhood fine
And tried to use them now and then
In Service for my fellow men."

Contraceptives

The Connecticut supreme court has upheld the state anti-birth control law, which prohibits the use of contraceptives without exception.

Drive Backward

When most large floats for parades are mounted on motor-truck bodies, they face toward the rear so their high back ends will cover and conceal the driver's cab, declares Collier's. Thus the vehicle has to be driven backward in the procession.

BORROW WISELY

To Buy a Home

THIS bank makes F.H.A. Home Loans for as much as 90% of appraisal, and for as long as 25 years.

But it isn't always wise for a home owner to borrow as much as he can for as long as he can. It is wise to borrow moderately so that repayment will not be a hardship, and will not interfere with the accumulation of a savings and life insurance reserve.

Sound banking counsel is part of our loan service. Whether or not you are a customer of this bank, you will be welcome at our nearest office for a friendly discussion of your loan needs.

Cambrian Club Holds Last Session Of School Year

The last meeting for the school year was held in the school auditorium by the Cambrian Home and School club on June 4.

Mrs. Martin H. Farnham presided, turning the gavel over to Mrs. Clarence Fagalde, newly elected presiden when new business was called for.

The teachers of the school, Bernard Watson, Mrs. Anna K. James, Mrs. Mabel Keesling and Miss Betty M. Calkins, were the hosts for the day, presenting a delightful fashion show, of girls wearing the clothes they had made themselves in sewing class.

At the close of the meeting and program delicious refreshments were served.

It was voted at the meeting that the club would put on a rummage sale in San Jose, early in September. This will be the first time the group has tried this method of raising money. The proceeds are earmarked for direct aid in putting up the youth center.

The Dad's club has been tearing down old buildings for lumber and the two groups together are raising money and hope is high that the center will soon be built.

Any articles of clothing or furniture, etc., will be called for by members of the organization. Collecting for the sale is starting at once. For pick-ups call Mr. Watson at Campbell or Mrs. Farnham at Campbell 314-W.

THETA RHO NOTES

The San Jose Theta Roe club held a formal initiation Monday, June 2 in the Odd Fellows hall.

The newest member to the Campbell club initiated by the San Jose club was Miss Virginia Cook of Campbell. Virginia and some of the older members who had not been initiated before were all properly taken into the club at the last Theta Roe meeting of the Campbell girls.

The club gave a formal reception in honor of Miss Lois Magneson on June 7. A program was given followed by dancing.

On June 18 the Campbell Theta Roe girls are having a picnic at Alum Rock park. Each girl will make a lunch for two and the escorts will buy them at twenty-five cents a lunch. For transportation the girls have chartered a bus which will leave Campbell between 6 and 6:30 p. m.

Swimming, dancing and horseback riding will be the main attractions.

COUNSELING
Miss Eunice Reader

This year a system of counseling to aid the individual student of all classes to meet his social educational problems has been started.

As part of this system, orientation for freshmen, a course designed to acquaint the new student with his school environment and to help him realize the opportunities that he may have for participating in the many activities of the school, is offered. He is given an opportunity to study the high school system of student government so that he will be ready to take his place in the many positions open for school service. By so doing we hope he may be better fitted to take his place as an intelligent citizen when he is out of school.

Also, as part of this program each student by means of an individual conference with his counselor, discusses his grades, checks on his records, and plans a tentative four-year course so that he may have the opportunity to receive the training for which he is best fitted.

In addition, the student has the opportunity for private meeting with his counselor to discuss any other personal problems in which he may need help or advice.

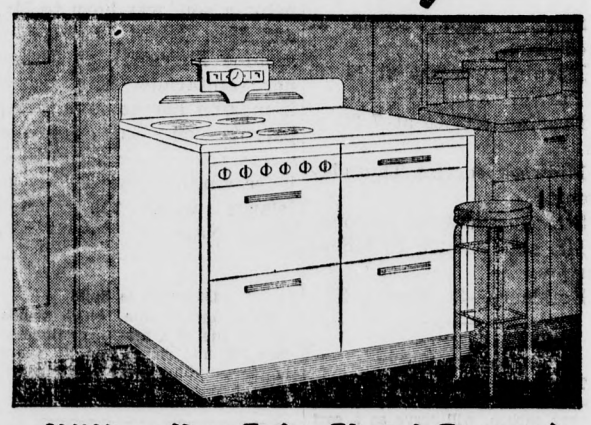
Electric Cookery is "CLEAN" as Electric Light


Millions Now Enjoy Electric Ranges!
Have a picture book kitchen, clean and bright and modern. Start right with a modern electric range. Select any one of the new models from a variety of makes. They are all good ranges. They are all priced reasonably low. And anyone of the new 1941 models will cook with all the speed you would want food to cook. Then no matter if your kitchen is painted white or some light cheerful color do not worry about the paint getting smudgy and dirty looking in a short time. Your electric range cooks with heat from glowing coils that are clean and dependable as electric light.
Millions of American women now cook the modern electric way. They like the simplicity of operation of the electric range. They like the way the top units come up to cooking speed quickly at the snap of a switch. They like the perfect broiling and roasting in the ovens. They like the automatic time and temperature controls that take care of oven dinners or baking. And they like the economy of electric cooking, too.
Why not cook the modern way...with electricity? Here in California electricity is cheap for cooking. You will be amazed at how little it costs to operate one of the new 1941 electric ranges.
